(54) COMMUNICATION EQUIPMENT FOR FEELING EXPRESSION

(57)Abstract:

PROBLEM TO BE SOLVED: To transmit less quantity of data and to transmit the feeling of a transmitter to a receiver.

SOLUTION: The transmitter inputs a transmission message to a transmission processing circuit 6 by using the input means of a communication equipment 1. The transmission processing circuit 6 adds an identification signal identifying the transmitter and a feeling signal showing feeling to the transmission message, generates transmission data and transmits it to the communication equipment 1 of a reception-side through a transmission line. When communication with the communication equipment transmitting transmission data is the first time, the reception processing circuit 10 of the communication equipment 1 on the reception-side stores information on a picture displaying the transmitter among transmission data in a data memory 12. The reception processing circuit 10 visually displays the transmission message in received transmission data on the visual display area 13a of a display device 13. The identification signal is discriminated and the corresponding picture is visually displayed by changing it in a state where it corresponds to the feeling signal. Furthermore, the transmission message is made into sound by sound corresponding to the feeling signal and it is outputted from a speaker 15.
